

Finish sector tickets now on sale for the EU23CH!

Tickets to sweetest seats – the finish line sector – at the European U23 Championships Tallinn 2015, taking place on July 9-12 are on sale internationally via Estonian distributor www.Piletilevi.ee.

For the first time in Estonian athletics history, tickets will be sold for assigned seats in order to accommodate the national as well as international demand for the tickets. Tickets are released for sale sector by sector. The finish line is sector no. 1 of the main tribune on Kadriorg Stadium.

Tickets are available for international presale online via Piletilevi.ee until July 8. The price of a presale 4-day ticket is 20 euros and discount ticket for students and old age pensioners is 15 euros. Also available are 4-day supporter tickets priced at 100 euros, which include a seat on the VIP tribune and catering during competition.

Among the first to purchase the tickets was the hugely popular Estonian popstar Uku Suviste, who bought two supporter tickets to the event. “This is a first time opportunity for me. Now I have the tickets and I am definitely planning to go to Kadriorg Stadium to see the championships. After all, these athletes are the future of athletics,” Suviste said.

The performer added that athletics was his passion from childhood until finishing high school and he watched reruns with his father thousands of times. He also did athletics while he was serving in the military. “I am glad that this major championship is right here in Tallinn. This enables me to rediscover athletics and once more get closely acquainted with the sport and the emotions,” said Suviste.

Well-known “superfans” of Estonian athletics Ants Tennison and Koit Antsmäe are also proud owners of the tickets. The once founding members of Erki Nool fan club have travelled to most athletics outdoor championships since 1997. “At the EU23CH we will be most interested in multiple events but of course we are hoping for good results from the entire team,” said Tennison and Antsmäe.

EU23CH will bring around 1000 athletes to the historic Kadriorg Stadium in Tallinn, including various world class athletics stars. Athletes from this age group won 27 medals from European Championships in Zürich 2014 and 18 from European Indoor Championships in Prague 2015.
